INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

From June 18 to 21, 2024, the 21st International Anti-Corruption Conference (IACC) — the world's largest forum on anti-corruption — was held in Vilnius. The conference brought together more than 2 200 participants from 165 countries. The event featured nine plenary sessions, over one hundred workshops, four masterclasses, as well as high-level meetings, during which joint declarations were adopted. The Service was the main organizer and coordinator of the event in Lithuania.

The Service also continued to chair the Network of European Partners Against Corruption and the European contact-point network against corruption (EPAC/EACN), which brings together 120 anti-corruption and police oversight institutions from 39 European countries.
